The children have been working incredibly hard in their English lessons and have produced some fantastic pieces of published work that they should be very proud of!

Friday 4th October 2024

Reception created book covers for their own version of 'Super Duper You' by Sophy Henn.

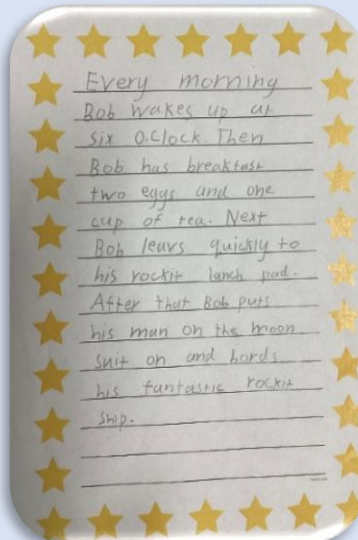

In Class 5, they have been retelling the Chinese story of The Golden Slipper, focusing on figurative language.

Class 3 have been reading Stone Age Boy by Satoshi Kitamura and recounted the story in the first person, focusing on setting descriptions.

Class 2 have been practising using conjunctions of time and expanded noun phrases, to retell Bob's working day on the moon (based on A Day in the Life of Bob – Man on the Moon).

Class 6 have written diary entries based on the stories of people from the Windrush generation.

Well done to all our brilliant writers!
